

Yazdani

yazdanitrade.com

By using modern knowledge, the most advanced devices and observing all hygiene principles, the Yazdani brand has succeeded in producing first-class dried fruit, which offers its products to its customers without any additives and preservatives and with the best quality available in the market. For this reason, the Yazdani brand is considered one of the most prominent brands of dry fruit production in Asia.

Nowadays, dried fruit is one of the most popular products because in some seasons, the fruit of another season is not available and you can use dried fruit instead. Dried fruit loses all its water in the production process and becomes much smaller in size.

Dried fruit has a delicious taste and an attractive appearance, and its varieties include: mango, banana, strawberry, apple, pineapple, fig, apricot, apricot, apple, cherry, persimmon and other fruits, and it is produced in various packages.

One of the advantages of dried fruit is its small volume compared to fresh fruit, and it has a higher durability and shelf life, and you can store it for a long time and carry it with you easily.

Properties of using dried fruit

Supplier of minerals

Increase the strength of the immune system

Improve digestive function and prevent constipation

Prevent premature aging

Prevention of anemia and

The production of Yazdani dry fruit is done by experienced personnel and the most up-to-date devices, and all the steps are in compliance with the hygiene principles so that our dear customers are fully satisfied with their purchase.

Yazdani brand products are made from the highest quality fresh fruits and the fruits are dried by modern machines.

The most important goal of our group in the field of dry fruit production is the high quality of the products so that it can offer its best products at reasonable prices to its customers all over the world.

We are proud that as the largest dry fruit producer, we can offer organic products to our customers.

Yazdani

info@yazdanitrade.com

yazdanitrade.com

+98 912 0275 393